If you work in the licensed trade or plan to, taking a Personal Licence Course is one of the smartest steps you can take for your career. Whether you are behind the bar, managing a pub, or running your own venue, this qualification proves you understand the law around selling alcohol responsibly. We put together this guide to walk you through what the course involves, how the exam works, and why choosing the right provider matters.

Why a Personal Alcohol Licence Course Online Makes Sense

Gone are the days of sitting in a classroom for hours on end. A Personal Alcohol Licence Course Online lets you study from your sofa, your break room, or anywhere with an internet connection. You choose the pace, you choose the time, and you do not have to rearrange your work rota around a fixed class schedule.

What You Will Learn in the Course

The training covers everything the law expects a licence holder to know, including

- The four licensing objectives
- Key parts of the Licensing Act 2003
- Your duties and responsibilities as a licence holder
- Rules around age verification and refusal of sales
- Common alcohol related offences

By the end, you should feel confident applying these rules in a real working environment, not just on paper.

How the Exam Works

Once your study is complete, you will sit a 40-question multiple-choice exam within a 60-minute window. You need 70 percent, or 28 correct answers, to pass. The result appears straight away, so there is no anxious wait for the post. If things do not go your way the first time, you can try again without paying extra.

Choosing the Right Personal Licence Course Provider

Not every provider offers the same value. Look for one that is BIIAB accredited, keeps its content easy to follow, and gives you proper support if you get stuck. Unlimited resits and a fair price also make a real difference, especially if you are covering the cost yourself.

A Few Extra Things Worth Knowing

Your certificate does not expire once issued, though you will still need it alongside your DBS check when applying to your local council for a Personal Licence. Keep a digital and printed copy safe, as councils often ask for the original.

Frequently Asked Questions

Do I need any experience before starting the course?
No prior experience is needed. The course is written for beginners as well as existing staff.
How long does the course take to complete?
Most learners finish within a day or two, though you can take as long as you like.
Is the qualification recognised across the UK?
Yes, it is Ofqual-regulated and accepted by councils nationwide.
What happens if I fail the exam?
You can retake it at no additional cost until you pass.

Final Thoughts

Getting qualified does not need to be complicated or expensive. With clear study materials, a fair exam structure, and genuine support along the way, Licensing Solutions makes the whole process straightforward from booking to certificate.
